

We are thrilled to invite you to an experience that breaks the mold of the traditional corporate meeting. At the D5-D5A Users Conference, we trade rigid schedules for organic, high-value conversation.

Why Our Format Works

While you can download our framework below, you'll notice it isn't cluttered with pre-set topics. We believe the most valuable insights come from you.

- Participant-Driven: We don't talk at you; we facilitate a space where every attendee brings their own unique challenges and successes to the table.
- Everyone Has a Voice: Unlike other conferences where a few voices dominate the room, our culture ensures everyone—from the veteran to the first-timer—feels comfortable contributing.
- Strangers to Friends: It's a point of pride that every year, our newcomers are quickly folded into the community, turning professional acquaintances into lifelong friends.

Real Value, Real Connections

I might be biased, but our community speaks for itself. Just last week in Chicago a colleague reminded me why we do this: he called the D5-D5A conference the best he's ever attended. We also take immense pride in our Vendor Partnerships:

- We treat vendors as true partners—essential pieces of the technical puzzle.
- We provide the bridge; you build the relationship.
- Special Highlight: We are excited to welcome EthosEnergy this year in a new OEM-support role, bringing a fresh level of technical depth to our presentations.

A Truly All-Inclusive Experience

At our conference, your wallet stays in your pocket. We believe in total hospitality, which is why all group activities are covered at no additional expense—and that includes your spouse or guest! We want you to focus on the people and the learning, not the logistics.

Share Your Story

Have a plant experience to share? We want to see it. Don't worry about "polished" slides or board approval. Whether it's a full presentation or just a few photos of a project, your real-world experience is what our members value most.

We can't wait to see you there and continue this 27-year tradition of excellence!
